To Warren Doud,
Austin Bible Church, USA

Dear Sir,

My name is Nkweto Kaziwe. I am the pastor for Kasongole Assemblies of God in Kaputa District, Northern Province. My instructor is Pastor Lukonde Francis. I have been studying Grace Notes for some time now and I am doing Unit 5, specifically I have been studying History 400.

I started preaching more than 10 years ago. Though I have been preaching for such a long time, good and sound preaching started when started learning Grace Notes through Pastor Lukonde Francis. He encouraged us to get used to expository preaching because it was enriching. At first it was a big challenge to preach expository sermon because I could not manage to preach from few verses, worse still preaching from one verse. After many months of being trained, I came to know how to do expository preaching and teaching.

My church is a beneficiary of expository preaching and teaching. I am in love with Ephesians. Currently I am preaching from the Book of Ephesians. I like the explanation that the Greek word for redemption is apolutrosis, which means a ransom paid to purchase a slave or set someone free. We were slaves to sin but Christ has freed us from that slavery. What a rich explanation given in the Book of Ephesians!

Pray for me, I have started a new church called River of Life Assemblies of God. Members in this church are new and as such they need Bibles, which is the biggest challenge. These members, who are 50 in number, are already learning Grace Notes.

I would like to thank you most sincerely for enabling me be exposed to the study of Grace Notes. It is not me who is going to reward you but God himself. God Himself who rewards His people in His own special way will reward and bless you and everyone who has invested in Grace Notes. May the good Lord bless you richly.

I am the Lord's servant

Nkweto Kaziwe
